SAFETY INFORMATION

- Before beginning transportation, assembly, or use of the product, please read this information and the instructions included with the product.
- Keep this information and instructions for future reference.
- It is essential to follow the warnings and recommendations below and ensure others do so as well.

WARNING: The packaging may contain plastic film, which poses a risk of choking or suffocation. Keep it out of reach of children and individuals at risk of accidental ingestion or wrapping around the head.

CAUTION: The packaging may contain glass elements of the furniture. If these break, handling the furniture during unpacking may result in injury. Handle the furniture (whether packaged or assembled) with care.

WARNING: The furniture is heavy. If it (whether packaged or assembled) falls from the transport vehicle or from where it has been placed, it may cause injury. Always secure the furniture properly during transport and at any permanent or temporary storage location.

WARNING: The furniture is heavy. If the packaged furniture, when leaned against a wall or another object, falls over, it may cause injury. Always secure the packaged furniture properly when leaning it against a wall or another object.

WARNING: The furniture and its large components are heavy. Lifting the furniture (whether packaged or assembled) or its parts by one person or by individuals with limited physical or mental capacity may cause injury. The furniture and its large components should always be lifted by at least two individuals who are in appropriate physical and mental condition.

DANGER: The furniture packaging contains small parts packed loosely. If someone, especially a child, puts one of these parts in their mouth, they could swallow or choke on it, potentially leading to serious injury or even fatal harm. Do not allow children to have access to parts of unassembled furniture.

WARNING: Assembling and disassembling the furniture requires a certain level of physical and mental capability. If someone attempts assembly or disassembly without the health and ability to do so safely, it may result in injury. Only individuals in good physical and mental condition should undertake the assembly or disassembly of the furniture.

CAUTION: During the assembly and disassembly of the furniture, various hazards may arise, including handling sharp parts/edges, using tools, risk of glass breakage, and potential finger injuries from heavy components.

Only individuals in good physical and mental condition should undertake assembly or disassembly of the furniture. Wear gloves when appropriate.

WARNING: If the furniture has drawers, each has a specified maximum load capacity. Overloading a drawer may cause it to detach from its mechanism and fall, potentially resulting in injury. Never lean your body weight on the drawers or overload them in any other way.

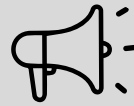

WARNING: Incorrect assembly of the furniture may cause parts to detach or fall, potentially resulting in injury. Follow the assembly instructions carefully, and if you have any doubts or lack the necessary skills, seek professional assistance.

WARNING: Uneven loading of the furniture, including positioning its center of gravity above half of its height, may cause it to lose stability and tip over, potentially resulting in injury. Distribute weight evenly, keeping the center of gravity as low as possible. If the furniture is equipped with wall-mounting components, be sure to use them.

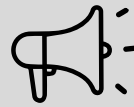

WARNING: Overloading the furniture may cause its parts to break or detach, potentially resulting in injury. Never exceed the maximum load capacity of the furniture.

CAUTION: If the furniture contains glass elements, breaking them may result in cuts or other injuries.

Exercise caution during use, cleaning, assembly, disassembly, and maintenance to avoid breaking any glass parts.

CAUTION: If the furniture has drawers or pistons, there is a risk of painful or injurious pinching if the user, especially a small child, closes the furniture carelessly or without awareness while fingers or other body parts are in an open area.

Do not allow young children unsupervised access to open parts of the furniture.

DANGER: If the furniture is equipped with electrical components or a power adapter connected to the mains, exercise special caution. In rare cases, if the electrical components or power adapter are exposed to liquid and touched, it may result in electric shock and serious injury, even fatal.

Do not allow electrical components or the power adapter to become wet. If they do get wet, do not touch them until the power has been safely disconnected (e.g., by switching off the circuit breaker).
